

A New Person

Good Morning Gary & Shelley

As you know I went to visit Jamie on Saturday, I was unfortunately late because my hubby had to go to work unexpectedly to prevent product stoppages. I must say, I was totally stunned to see this new person in front of me. You and your team are doing such a great job and I hope you guys never get tired of doing this because you are "amazing". May God continue to bless you and your family in abundance for the difference you make in people's lives. May He always send His Holy Spirit to be your guiding light. One can feel the family atmosphere as you walk through those gates.

Thank you for your beautiful lives....

I hope the rest of the week finds you well...
